

Shifting from Sickness and Disease to Wellness and Prevention

Nazeera Dawood, MBBS MPH

Former Chief of Staff
Office of the Chairman
Fulton County Board of Commissioners

Nazeera Dawood is the former Chief of Staff for Chairman John Eaves, Fulton County Board of Commissioners. She received her medical doctor degree from Bangalore University in India and master's degree in public health from the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill. Nazeera worked as a research project manager at Emory University for over 5 years and was recognized as the 2010-2011 'We are Emory, 100 Community Builders'. She is currently the president for the South Asian Public Health Association (SAPHA), an adjunct professor at Morehouse School of Medicine and is the founder of the Health Promotion Action Coalition organization. She has previously served on the Fulton County Schools Health Advisory Board. Oct 1, 2014 was proclaimed as 'Nazeera Dawood Appreciation Day' sponsored by Fulton Board of Commissioners. She is a Johns Creek resident and a graduate of Leadership Johns Creek and Johns Creek Community Police Academy.

Georgia Center for Diabetes Translation Research

Emory Global
Diabetes Research Center

Thursday, July 27
Noon – 1:00pm

Room 500 I, Claudia Nance Rollins Building
Rollins School of Public Health

Pizza will be served